Course Overview

The Emotional Intelligence Training is a dynamic two-day interactive course that introduces the four essential aspects to honing this soft skill – intrapersonal skills, interpersonal skills, adaptability, and resilience – and strategies for developing each. It also helps participants confront issues, tackle problems, and manage change and stress with composure and clarity.

No organization is without its ups and downs, which is why emotional intelligence is essential. In a world of deadlines, organizational changes, limited resources, and conflicting orders, having the ability to control your emotions is essential for navigating the unavoidably high-stress environment that often shapes the working world.

But it's not just about taking control of your reactions to emotionally-charged situations. The Emotional Intelligence training class will help you recognize your emotional triggers and know when and how to use them in a way that enables you to deal with stresses and also develop strong connections with coworkers.
