- APPLICATION PROCESS
- Gather your application materials.

Document your experience related to past projects and training. Below are some examples to help guide you through your documentation process:

- Projects you've led
- Where you've worked, your role and responsibilities, duration of projects
- Training you've completed

- Institutions attended, courses completed, qualifying hours
- Additional tips
- Remember to register a PMI.org user account before moving forward with your application.
- Don't miss any requirements with the application checklist.
- Take your time. The application is save-as-you-go, so you can take a break if needed.
- Remember to focus on your role and responsibilities for the project, not as much on the project itself.
